SUSTAINABILITY

Louis Hotels has long been implementing ethical and sustainable business practices and corporate responsibility has always been at the heart of its philosophy and culture. With ESG now taking centre stage, Louis Hotels is entering a new era in Sustainability. Travellers are turning to more sustainable options which span from sustainable architecture, to regenerative farming, responsible use of resources - such as energy, water and other materials, food waste and so many other considerations now arising from tourists' heightened conscience and sensitivity on sustainability related matters.

However, pressure is not only coming from guests but also other stakeholders such as our partners, employees and civil society in general. In response to these pressures but also staying true to its long standing corporate values and culture, Louis Hotels has recently engaged with key stakeholders to identify which of these issues are most important to them. The results then formed the basis of Louis Hotels' ESG Strategy moving forward.

Louis Hotels is now focusing on each of these ESG issues and developing an action plan with a clear timeline that will improve its impact and footprint on each of these issues in the years to come such as Health & Safety, Protecting our biodiversity and taking anti-corruption measures. Actions will vary from developing new policies, to investing in new infrastructure, implementing new internal programs and systems. All with a common goal: to create positive environmental and social impact. We are excited to be entering this next phase of our Sustainability journey and we are certain that with our valuable partners' support, our impact can be magnified!
